

Violet Sun - Toxic

tom:

Intro: Cadd9 E7 F Fm

How is it to be proud of something?

Usually, I've been so disappointed

When did everyone get so cold?

I still wonder, is there any hope?

Now all I see

Is people getting on TV

And I cannot feel any better

Please stop acting like it doesn't matter

World has become

World has become so toxic

I'm trying to ignore

I'm trying I can't deal with it

World has become

World has become so toxic

Help me wake up

Fm

Help me get out of here

Got my phone, first thing when I woke up

Then the Sun on my face forced me to get up

And looking outside for the first time in a while

I could cry and smile at the same time

You let me see

That I can still be happy

And every day you make me realize

That the birds still sing but

World has become

World has become so toxic

Be by my side

I know You and I can fight it

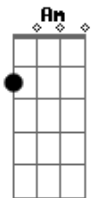

World has become

World has become so toxic

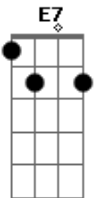

You opened my eyes

We can be the change it needs
