

Virgo - I Want You To Know

tom:

B

Badd9

You waste your time to find an answer
You say your life's a bunch of scraps

Search for the reason that keeps you down

Sighing out, but there's no land here all around

Badd9

No way to stand to see you suffer

You're digging traps you step right in

Hey, there's a way for anyone who's wanting

And there's a road for everyone to go

I want you to know

For all that you do

Well, It's not too late to rearrange

The pieces of your heart that made you go insane

Badd9

So if your looking for solutions

And you're still waiting for the day

That brings you sunrise and lights

The shade from all the pain and misery

That's why I say

I want you to know

For all that you do

Well, It's not too late to rearrange

The pieces of your heart that made you go insane

There are times of joy and times of pain

And we feel we waste our lives just standing up again

Badd9

And if your looking for a reason

You'll never find, you better try

To move along the road you're leaving

Never to fear, love is a lie

And if you're living for an answer

Don't waste your time

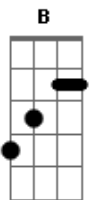

Longing to feel

Like any other day you suffered

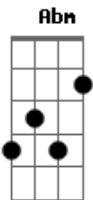

Back in the days

Life wasn't real
