                                                                  Yeah, I just wanna give love to you girl and hold you
I have seen so many city lights in my travels
                                                                  Yeah, I just wanna give love to you girl and treat you
None have been so bright as yours
Shining down from deep within your soul
                                                                  I just wanna give love to you girl, all night!
Magic light seeping out into everything you touch
                                                                I can tell you a couple things that I care about Come a little closer let me gaze into your eyes
                                                                And you can show me a couple things you just can't live without

Magic never felt so good
                                                                    Fb7M
                                                                Yeah, we can share a couple things, we can discuss
Yeah, I would guess a million men have tried to obtain it
                                                                What it is we just can't figure out
None of them the way I would Like how we can't figure out which ways to turn

So, girl
                                                                And how we can't figure out
Life is but a playground
                                                                Just how high these mother fucking waves get
We're kids running around it, catch me on the slide
                                                                And how we must rise above
I'll grab you by the side
And I'll kiss you on the mouth
                                                                Still the secret lies
Girl
                                                                In what's true in love
                                                                         Bb

                                                                Still this question stands
On this merry-go-round
                                                                      Cm
                                                                What's true enough?
Your feet never touch the ground, I'll be in the park
                                                                       Uhh

Meet me after dark
