

Watain - They Rode On

Tom: G

Em
 Out of the dark, into the light
Em
 In the dawn of terrestrial birth
C
 New-born yet older than time
Em
 Conceived in the depths of the earth

Em
 Though strange lay the waters from which they emerged
Em
 They glanced upon the world as their own
 Yet deep in their hearts they knew all the time
Em
 That this was not really their home

Em C Am Em
 So they rode on
Em C Am Em
 Yes, they rode on

Em
 On hidden roads, through barren wastelands
Em
 Untrodden by both man and beast
C
 From the distance their fire was gleaming
Em
 Like a lamp amidst dark eternity

Em
 A bitter moon hovered above them
Em
 The night lit sole by its glow
 From high in a sky of ominous dye
Em
 In which dark clouds drifted slow

Em C Am Em
 So they rode on
Em C Am Em
 Yes, they rode on

Em
 They rode with shut eyes as the sun rose
Em
 Regardless of earth's vanity
C
 But with wide open eyes, they paced the night
Em
 And pondered its mysteries

Em
 They sat at the crossroads with high and with low

Em
 Yet neither could alter their course
 Riches were offered unto them
Em
 Yet indifferent and without remorse

Em C Am Em
 So they rode on
Em C Am Em
 Yes, they rode on

Em
 And each lonely vagrant that crossed their path
D
 Felt how his heart grew cold
C
 Yet be marvelled at their scarred faces
Em
 So beautiful, distant and old
Em
 Some say they've heard them singing
 In strange tongues of melancholy
C
 Of the gods, of the night, and of glory
Em
 Of the dead, and their memory

Em C Am Em
 So they rode on
Em C Am Em
 Yes, they rode on

Em D
 Say goodbye to the light
C Em
 Come twilight, come dark night
Em D
 Say goodbye to the light
C Em
 Come twilight, come dark night

Em
 Could you have rode there with them?
 Would you have joined their march?
C
 Or would you have them ride on?
Em
 Away into the dark?

Em
 Would you have been able to let go?
 Of illusions of right and of wrong?
C
 And if they came to die
Em
 Would you have rode on?
