

We The Kings - Where I Belong (feat. Simple Plan & State Champs)

I found a reason
                            tom:
Intro: F
                                                                And suddenly I'm not so alone
                                                                I'm finally breathing
                                                                Like I never could on my own
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                Start the countdown, let's get it on
                                                                Scream our lungs out to our favorite song
 I'm looking in the rearview mirror
                                                                'Cause this is where I belong
 Everything looks the same
                                                                This is where I belong
 There's nothing but broken streetlights
                                                                [Ponte]
 And I'm just trying to escape
 I'm waiting on a distant feeling
                                                                 Look past the warning signs
 I'm waiting for things to chance
                                                                 The same ones that told me
 It's getting hard to ride on empty
                                                                "Yeah, you can't turn back and run
But maybe I'm not so far away
                                                                Play it safe before you come undone"
'Cause it feels like home
                                                                 If you saw through my eyes
[Refrão]
                                                                 This view is worth it
 I found a reason
                                                                Can't believe me when I say
And suddenly I'm not so alone
                                                                There's no place in this world I'd rather be
                                                                [Refrão]
I'm finally breathing
Like I never could on my own
                                                                 I found a reason
Start the countdown, let's get it on
                                                                And suddenly I'm not so alone
Scream our lungs out to our favorite song
                                                                I'm finally breathing
'Cause this is where I belong
                                                                Like I never could on my own
This is where I belong
                                                                Start the countdown, let's get it on
( E )
                                                                Scream our lungs out to our favorite song
                                                                'Cause this is where I belong
                                                                This is where I belong
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                 I found a reason (I found a reason)
 I can tell you just don't get it
                                                                And suddenly I'm not so alone
 And that you'll never understand
                                                                I'm finally breathing (I'm finally breathing)
 I'm sorry that I can't be perfect
                                                                Like I never could on my own
 But I'm not changing who I am
                                                                Start the countdown, let's get it on
 Maybe there's no destination
                                                                Scream our lungs out to our favorite song (favorite song)
 Maybe I'm gonna make mistakes
                                                                'Cause this is where I belong
 Let you in on one of my secrets
                                                                ( E )
 I'm still just as lost as yesterday
But it feels like home
[Refrão]
                                                                'Cause this is where I belong
