

World War Me - That's So Yesterday

tom:

So go just walk away

And leave me here because I'm better off this way

I'm sick of living in the "that's so yesterday"

So walk away

Walk away

Well, what's the point of living when you're scared of the unknown

And you're looking for direction well go find it on your own

And your companies regrettable, your attitude's detestable

I'm not sure a second chance would loosen up your noose around my throat

(Around my throat)

So go just walk away

And leave me here because I'm better off this way

I'm sick of living in the "that's so yesterday"

So walk away

Walk away

Sorry little angel but I think it's best you leave

Go rest your weary head and give some time for me to breathe

And it's not as if you're wanted here
I'm just making sure I made that clear

So don't leave me with your attitude

Just let me fucking be

(Please just let me be)

So go just walk away

And leave me here because I'm better off this way

I'm sick of living in the "that's so yesterday"

So walk away

Walk away

So bitch just walk away

And leave us here because we're better off this way

We're sick of living in the "that's so yesterday"

So walk away

Walk away

(Cause' no one liked you anyway)

So go just walk away

And leave me here because I'm better off this way

I'm sick of living in the "that's so yesterday"

So walk away

Walk away

(Cause' no one liked you anyway)
