

Wrabel - The Village

Intro: Bb Dm F Am
                                                           you young lost sinner
        Rh
No, your mom don't get it
                                                           Well I've been there, sitting in that same chair
     Dm
And your dad don't get it
                                                           Whispering that same prayer half a million times
Uncle John don't get it
                                                           It's a lie though, buried in disciples
                                                           One page of the Bible isn't worth a life
And you can't tell grandma
        Dm
'Cause her heart can't take it
                                                           There's something wrong in the village
                                                           Dm F Am
                                                           In the village, oh
And she might not make it
                                                              Bb
                                                           They stare in the village
They say, "Don't dare, don't you even go there
                                                           In the village, oh
Cutting off your long hair, you do as you're told"
                                                               Bb
                                                           There's nothing wrong with you
Tell you, "Wake up, go put on your makeup
                                                                        Am
                                                           It's true, it's true
This is just a phase you're gonna outgrow"
                                                           There's something wrong with the village
                Bh
There's something wrong in the village
                                                           With the village
In the village, oh
                                                           There's something wrong with the village
  Bb
They stare in the village
                                                           In the village, oh
                                                            (Bb Dm F Am)
   Bb
There's nothing wrong with you
              Am
                                                           There's something wrong in the village
It's true, it's true
There's something wrong with the village
                                                           In the village, oh
      F
                                                              Bb
With the village
                                                           They stare in the village
                                                           In the village, oh
There's something wrong with the village
                                                               Bb
                                                           There's nothing wrong with you
Feel the rumors follow you from Monday
                                                              F
                                                           It's true, it's true
all the way to Friday dinner
                                                           There's something wrong with the village
      Bb
You got one day of shelter
                                                           Dm F
                                                           With the village
        Dm
then it's Sunday hell to pay
                                                           There's something wrong with the village
