Yellowcard - Awakening

Tom: E

     E                       A                 Dbm
    Bottoms up tonight, I drink to you and I
              B                                     E
 'cause with the morning comes the rest of my life
                           A               Dbm
 And with this empty glass, I will break the past
                    B                           A
 'cause with the morning I can open my eyes
                  B
 I want this to be my awakening
```

(E A Dbm G) (2x)

```
 E                        A                   Dbm
    I give this one to you, an anthem full of truth
              B                                      E
 I tell you now an epic tale of what you put me through
                 A                         Dbm
 And even though you don't deserve one of your own
           B                               A
 A melody, a song about, the life that you let go
         B                                   E
 I can't believe that I still care enough to write
```
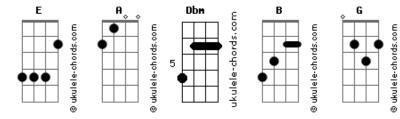

```
 E                       A                 Dbm
    Bottoms up tonight, I drink to you and I
              B                                    E
 'cause with the morning comes the rest of my life
                          A               Dbm
 And with this empty glass, I will break the past
                    B                          A
 'cause with the morning I can open my eyes
                  B
 I want this to be my awakening
```

(E A Dbm G) (2x)

```
 E                       A                 Dbm
    Yes I miss you still And probably always will
                        B                          E
 I'm living with a busted heart that I will have until
                        A                        Dbm
 I find the strength I know it's somewhere in my bones
```

```
                            B                          A
 So pull the curtain up again and get on with this show
                          B                        E
 At least you know that I still care enough to write
```

 E                       A                 Dbm
    Bottoms up tonight, I drink to you and I
              B                                    E
 'cause with the morning comes the rest of my life
                          A               Dbm
 And with this empty glass, I will break the past
                    B                          A
 'cause with the morning I can open my eyes
                  B                    Dbm
 And maybe I will see, a different destiny
                            E                        A
 Like maybe knowing you at all was only a bad dream
                 B               Dbm
 I want this to be my awakening
                                         A
 No rest for the wicked they say
 Dbm                        A
 Forgive me if I try to change
 Dbm                        A
 No rest for the wicked they say (No rest the say)
 Dbm                        A
 Forgive me if I try to change (If I try to change)
```

```
 E                       A                 Dbm
    Bottoms up tonight, I drink to you and I
              B                                    E
 'cause with the morning comes the rest of my life
                          A               Dbm
 And with this empty glass, I will break the past
                    B                          A
 'cause with the morning I can open my eyes
                  B                    Dbm
 And maybe I will see, a different destiny
                            E                        A
 Like maybe knowing you at all was only a bad dream
                 B               Dbm
 I want this to be my awakening
```
